REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance.

The applicants' argument that FEP and PFA are not functionally equivalent materials for the purpose of the present invention is found to be persuasive in view of the comparative examples presented in the instant disclosure. In particular, a comparison of: (a) Example 1 and Comparative Example 2, (b) Example 2 and Comparative Example 3, and (c) Example 3 and Comparative Example 4 illustrates improved peel strength and higher number of cycles to failure for multilayer substrates in which the high-temperature bonding layer comprises a major amount of PFA versus substrates in which the high-temperature bonding layer is formed of FEP with no PFA. This represents an unexpected result in view of disclosure of Effenberger et al. that does not recognize a functional distinction between FEP and PFA.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
